

Grace Notes – February 20, 2018

Dear Grace Church,

We started our journey through Lent with some delicious pancakes last Tuesday night--many thanks to Kelsey, Alicia and Dan for organizing a lovely event and to all the volunteers and guests!

The snowstorm last Saturday night seemed to come upon us without a lot of advance notice. Charlie and I were on the road, and a fair number of parishioners I spoke with had a similar story. It bears repeating that during or after significant weather events, please use your best judgment about traveling to church. I am here, and we can always be flexible with volunteers assigned to various parts of the service. When in doubt, please make the safest choice for you and your family. God will be praised regardless!

Sunday school will not meet this Sunday, February 25th, but will begin again on Sunday, March 4th.

Our next Grace Community Table will happen on Saturday, March 3rd. Join us for food at noon, and invite anyone you think would enjoy the meal and the company! Our Confirmation class will be hosting, and we look forward to seeing you there.

See you in church,
Anna
